Feeling Thankful by Mr. Hucks

What is being thankful? Simply put it means being “full of thanks.” Easy enough concept, right? Yet it is so hard to put into practice, especially when situations become overwhelming or out of our control.

During our staff devotions this week, we talked about how our hearts should be full of thanks, no matter how we are feeling. The devotional brought to mind Romans 8:28 which says, “And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.” Even during the darkest times, God is working out all things for our good and His glory.

Bad things as well as good happen to everyone, but the assurance we have as God’s children is that He is in control and is actively taking everything that happens in our lives and working it together for our good. When tough times come our way, we have the power to resist the temptation to become angry, bitter, dissatisfied, offended, etc. Truly believing in God’s Word and acting upon that will lead to profound peace, joy, strength, and rest in God.

Even in the hard times, we can be thankful for God’s promise to work all things for our good. When we remember the incredible sacrifice that Christ made on our behalf, we should be overwhelmed with thankfulness. He chose to give His life as an offering for our sins to give us abundant life.
